RIGHTS OR WRONGS

A recent visitor to Las Vegas was amazed at the building boom going on there. A huge night club, backed by Bugsy Siegel and called the Flamingo, was started only a few months ago. It features four swimming pools, and reservations are already being taken for a November opening. Yet our returned soldiers can't even find a shed for shelter.

Re: BENJAMIN "BUGS" SIEGEL
MISCELLANEOUS; INFORMATION CONCERNING;
CRIME SURVEY

Dear Sir:

On September 4, 1946 [redacted] of the Compliance Division, C.P.A., Los Angeles, was contacted by Special Agents [redacted] [redacted] advised that he possessed certain information which might be of interest to the Bureau and that he was anxious to furnish it, and in return did not expect to be informed concerning the nature of our investigation. He further stated that in connection with the disclosure of this information he was very anxious that his connection with its disclosure be treated with the utmost confidence.

[redacted] was in Las Vegas, Nevada recently with [redacted] of the Construction Division, C.P.A., from Washington, D.C., who had been sent out to Las Vegas to examine the Flamingo properties by the Washington Division of C.P.A. Accompanying [redacted] C.P.A. Investigator from this division who testified at the previous hearing before [redacted] in San Francisco, California. [redacted] went on to say that [redacted] whom he characterized as "a very personable individual," took several photographs of the Flamingo properties; contacted [redacted] of the DEL WEBB CONSTRUCTION COMPANY; and, also examined the plans on file in the office of the Clark County Building Commissioner, who advised [redacted] that the Flamingo project in his estimation was "hot" and that he did not want to have anything to do with it. In discussing the plans which [redacted] had stated to [redacted] he was using to construct the Flamingo, [redacted] expressed surprise to [redacted] that the Hotel could be built from the blue prints on display in the DEL WEBB Office at the Flamingo job. [redacted] of course, stated that he is not a builder or an architect, but that he personally did not believe that DEL WEBB is using the plans shown him in constructing this hotel. [redacted] stated that he personally examined the construction at the Flamingo and that it was his opinion that even at the present time the project consists of at least three distinct units. He based this contention on the fact that there are outside windows and doors in the ends of the casino and hotel building which precludes the contention that these adjoining buildings are one structure. He made the statement several times during the interview that in his opinion the crux of the entire matter was the fact that only one building was under construction on March 26, 1946 and that any buildings erected, or started, or plans drawn subsequent to that time are in violation of the Civilian Production Administration regulations regardless of whether these structures are joined by tunnels, porches or utility connections; and, furthermore, are irrelevant to the question of whether on March 18th the structure authorized consisted of one or more buildings. Incidentally, he said nothing concerning any opinion which [redacted] may have had concerning the project. b7c

On September 3, 1946 [redacted] drove [redacted] back to Los Angeles from Las Vegas, putting him on a San Francisco plane on the morning of September 4, 1946, stating that [redacted] was going to the C.P.A. Headquarters in San Francisco to dictate his report on the investigation at Las Vegas. b7c

[redacted] expressed himself as being disappointed at the support the Compliance Division is receiving from the Construction Division. He went on to say that his office had stopped approximately 2500 projects, all of which had been immediately authorized for continued construction by the Construction Division of his own organization and the reports his men had made in these cases were apparently completely disregarded. b7c

In discussing [redacted] stated that several days ago [redacted] due to the pressure of business and an injury to his arm, which had been rather serious, took a week's vacation coming to Santa Monica, California near Los Angeles for a day or two. [redacted] is a bachelor and while he was in Santa Monica called [redacted] and the two engaged in a general social conversation. On the following day, which was Thursday, August 29, 1946, [redacted] received a telephone call at his office from an individual whose voice he did not recognize, stating: "This is your cousin from San Francisco" and asked to meet [redacted] at the intersection of 8th Street and Wilshire Boulevard. [redacted] went on to say that his office has "several deals cooking", any one of which might cause him to be unpopular with certain persons, and that in going out to meet the individual as requested in this phone call he suddenly realized that "I might get my teeth knocked in". So he asked one of his staff, whom he described as "a good man" to follow him in another car. When [redacted] got to the designated intersection he noticed a car parked in the vicinity, and upon approaching it found that it contained [redacted] and BEN SIEGEL. SIEGEL told [redacted] that he wanted to talk to him and refused to sit in [redacted] car and asked the latter to go for a walk. Consequently, b7c

Re: BENJAMIN "BUGS" SIEGEL

the two men walked down the street and SIEGEL said that he knew that the F.B.I. was investigating this matter concerning the Flamingo and that his telephones at Las Vegas were tapped. Further, he knew that one of the matters under investigation was an alleged bribe of [redacted] District Construction Supervisor for C.P.A. at Reno, Nevada. He said that he knew no bribe had been passed because if anyone had done such a thing they would have gone to him, SIEGEL, to be reimbursed, and pointed out that if anyone had paid [redacted] $500 they would ask SIEGEL for $5,000. Apparently he indulged in some conversation at that point to the effect that he was being shaken down every day. He also stated that he knew that F.B.I. Agents had contacted [redacted] in Los Angeles, and [redacted] of the Del Webb Construction Company, but that he had nothing to fear from this investigation. According to [redacted] SIEGEL is of the opinion that he is being persecuted by the Government in connection with the construction of the Hotel. BEN told [redacted] had every cent he owns in the world invested in the Flamingo and that if the project were not permitted to continue [redacted] would be ruined financially. SIEGEL stated he has complied with all regulations; that the structure consists of one unit; and, for this reason the construction should not be interfered with by the Government. b7x

[redacted] also mentioned that SIEGEL stated that Senator PAT MC CARRAN of Nevada either had or was going to personally contact [redacted] in SIEGEL's behalf and that the Senator was going to "pound the table with his fists" and impress upon [redacted] that the State of Nevada wanted the hotel constructed. [redacted] told SIEGEL that it was necessary that the latter produce detailed plans of the construction which showed the construction as contemplated on March 26th. SIEGEL said that he would produce these and called [redacted] the next morning, Friday August 30, 1946. SIEGEL called [redacted] at his office and met the latter in the street near the C.P.A. building and did not have the plans; however, said he had been attempting to get them. On September 4, 1946 SIEGEL called [redacted] at his home, saying that he had the plans and was taking them to San Francisco for the hearing which was to be held on September 5th. b7c

[redacted] stated that as far as his investigation of the Flamingo Construction was concerned the sole question in his opinion was whether there were one or more buildings actually under construction as of March 26, 1946. He stated that as far as he was personally concerned SIEGEL'S background did not enter into the picture; that whether it was SIEGEL or "the King of Siam" building the construction there was only one question involved and that consisted of definitely determining what the status of the construction was on March 26th. He mentioned that apparently his b7c headquarters in San Francisco lost sight of this point and did not appear to be interested in determining the condition on the above-mentioned date. He again stated that his job was to determine whether any steel had entered the construction of the hotel and shops on March 26th, and that in his opinion the construction as of March 26th consisted solely of the casino which was a separate and distinct unit. He went on to say that when the original "stop construction" wire was sent in early April 1946, this action should have been made to stick and the Government should not have permitted construction to continue, as in the meantime the builders had invested $1,500,000 and that the hotel building is complete with the exception of the manager's penthouse on the roof. He stated this building will weather the elements very well as it now stands in the event construction is stopped, except during a driving rain. The cottages have not been started at all and the shops are presently undergoing construction.

[redacted] is of the opinion that SIEGEL intends bringing a petition into the hearing at San Francisco on the part of approximately 150 servicemen who are employed on the construction of the project as well as an additional petition by a like number of veterans who will staff the structure after its completion, praying that the Government permit the construction to continue and the Hotel to operate so that they will have their jobs. b7c

BACKGROUND

On September 4, 1946, Mr. Ostholtzoff advised me that [redacted] for the CPA, desired to furnish information to the Bureau, which information Mr. Ostholtzoff stated would be furnished in detail to the Bureau.

Upon contact, [redacted] advised that the information he desired to disclose should be treated with "utmost confidence". in connection with the horse gambling and liquor licenses, it was ascertained through [redacted] that on August 2, 1936, SAM JUNGHE was in contact with [redacted] at Las Vegas.

At this contact, it was indicated that SIEGEL was conscious of knowing what had happened in Las Vegas, apparently in reference to the denial of the liquor and gambling licenses. SIEGEL wanted to know who was behind it and [redacted] was unable to advise SIEGEL at that time. SIEGEL further indicated that he had thought that [redacted] had spoken "to them" before they went into the hearing. SIEGEL inquired as to whether [redacted] had spoken to "your guy" and [redacted] indicated that he had but would not make any further statement at that time as to what happened. [redacted] was of the opinion that SIEGEL should come to Las Vegas as it appeared that a further hearing would take place the following day.

⑤ The same confidential source advised that on August 2, 1946 SIEGEL was in touch with [REDACTED]. SIEGEL appeared to be quite anxious to know what had happened at Las Vegas. Again, this appeared to be in connection with the denial of the licenses for liquor and gambling. [REDACTED] was of the opinion that he thought everything would be all right. SIEGEL was quite at a loss to understand what difference it made as to who the partners in the corporation might be as there might be 100 partners and how would they be able to know who the partners were. Further, he could not understand how "they" were going to stop the granting of the licenses. [REDACTED] indicated that there would be nothing to worry about that date. Again, apparently in regard to the liquor license, SIEGEL indicated that [REDACTED].

[REDACTED] advised that on August 12, 1946, [REDACTED] was at the [REDACTED] at which time [REDACTED] was having with reference to the building of the [REDACTED] Flamingo. [REDACTED] stated to the fact that he had [REDACTED] building of the [REDACTED] from Washington and [REDACTED] to [REDACTED] it. [REDACTED] was of the opinion that [REDACTED] was [REDACTED] as well as [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] inquired of [REDACTED] as to whether [REDACTED] had [REDACTED] a car of beer.

[REDACTED] LANSKY was interested in knowing what [REDACTED] was for, and [REDACTED] stated that he wanted to send it [REDACTED] and for [REDACTED] to send it to "them". Reference to "them" was indicated to be the "fellows on the commission". Again, this probably refers to the City Commissioners in Las Vegas, Nevada. [REDACTED] instructed LANSKY to send the carload of beer direct to [REDACTED] the Nevada Beverage (Las Vegas Nevada Beverage Company).

On August 12, 1946, [REDACTED] reported that MOE SEHWAY had contacted [REDACTED] SINGEL at the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco, California, at which time SINGEL related that he had given "fifteen" and [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] for BEN and MOE SEHWAY. [REDACTED] stated he had given another person "five", who had nothing to do with MOE and [REDACTED] "five".

[REDACTED] Reference to fifteen, five and one is believed to be to hundreds of dollars. [REDACTED] further instructed MOE to take the money to them and take one out and tell [REDACTED]. Further, he was to take "five upstairs" which means five out of the [REDACTED] (Club) and three out of "ours". [REDACTED] instructed MOE that if it was necessary to give the fellow another five they could each give $50.

The following was dictated by Special Agent [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] stated that [REDACTED] at the Las Vegas Club, Las Vegas, Nevada called GUS [REDACTED] at the Del Mar, California and advised [REDACTED] that a [REDACTED] as that [REDACTED] from Washington, D.C. addressed to [REDACTED] to cause [REDACTED] all construction on the hotel and [REDACTED]

On August 12, 1946, [redacted] immediately after receiving the cease and desist telegram of August 8, 1946, telephonically contacted the Regional Office of the C.P.A. in San Francisco pursuant to SINGH's instructions and presented an "impassioned plea" to a C.P.A. Regional Representative that the owners be allowed to continue work on the hotel pending the outcome of the hearing before the Commissioners in view of the fact that [redacted] alleged 500 men were employed on the Flamingo Hotel and that these men would be immediately thrown out of work if construction ceased. [redacted] stated that as a result of this telephone contact the C.P.A. Regional Office in San Francisco advised [redacted] that construction would be allowed to continue pending the outcome of the hearing before the Commissioners on August 25, 1946. b7c

The following was dictated by Special Agents [redacted] b7c

On August 9, 1946 these agents called on [redacted] of the C.P.A., with offices at 1206 Santos. [redacted] was told that the F.B.I. was interested in the Flamingo Hotel and the freeze order effecting its construction. He then said that his regulations specifically prohibit a person in the field from giving information to other agencies, but that off the record he would be pleased to discuss the Flamingo Hotel situation. He laid out a diagram showing that the Flamingo Hotel, which he referred to as the U.S. Grant in San Diego, California, would be comprised of separate buildings roughly situated in a horseshoe design on acreage six miles west of Las Vegas on the Los Angeles-Las Vegas Highway. The building nearest the highway, which comprised the casino, the kitchen and the dining room, was surrounded by a 200 room hotel, a series of shops or stores and a series of cottages which would complete the layout. According to [redacted] building Number One, comprising the casino, kitchen and dining room, was actually under construction prior to the C.P.A. freeze which was issued March 25, 1946. However, none of the other buildings were under construction nor were there any connecting tunnels or conduits indicating that they were a part of the structure under progress. b7c

The freeze order as interpreted by [redacted] meant that in a construction job such as this separate and distinct buildings would not be permitted to be built after the freeze went into effect. [redacted] was questioned several times as to previous decisions along these lines and he was emphatic b7c in stating that in any case handled so far the freeze order had been sustained prohibiting builders from constructing separate buildings in addition to the one already under construction when the freeze order went into effect. He boasted of the fact that he had the plans for the entire project in his office, that these plans had been "foolishly" signed by the architect and that these plans clearly showed that the project consisted of the above-mentioned separate buildings, only one of which was actually under construction on March 26, 1946.

██████████ remarked about the fact that Clark County Nevada, in which Las Vegas is situated, comes under the investigative jurisdiction of his office in the compliance end of C.P.A.; whereas, the Construction Division of C.P.A. handles Clark County, Nevada out of Reno. Consequently, after the freeze order went into effect on March 26, 1946, the builders of the Flamingo Hotel directed a letter to ██████████ (phonetic), newly appointed head of the Construction Division of the C.P.A. with offices at Reno, Nevada. This letter was written by ██████████ for the SINGH-GREENBAUM interests. ██████████ in this letter allegedly stated that certain conditions had been met and complied with which would not necessitate stopping construction on the Flamingo Hotel. In response to this letter, ██████████ stated by letter to ██████████ that if what the latter had said in his letter were true that the Flamingo Hotel should continue construction. ██████████ stated that he excused such slipshod handling of this matter because of the fact that the C.P.A. Construction Division had just come into existence and that ██████████ undoubtedly had a tremendous volume of business awaiting his attention. He stated that he was unable to form any definite opinion of ██████████ action in this regarding owing to the fact that he did not know the contents of the letter which ██████████ submitted to the Reno Construction Division, but his attitude appeared to indicate that he personally did not agree with ██████████ decision to permit construction to continue after March 26, 1946. b7c

He pointed out that at the forthcoming hearing in San Francisco to be held on Tuesday, the 13th, under ██████████ (Phonetic) the Government would present its side of the argument in an attempt to prove that the buildings were not related, nor connected physically and that the Flamingo Hotel should cease construction on the cottages, hotel and shops and ██████████ went on to say that this work had been progressing and that the Government's job would be to stop construction on these units permitting only the casino-kitchen-dining room unit to be completed. He pointed out that a transcript of the proceedings would be made and that persons testifying would be placed under oath and that the F.B.I. would obtain a copy of the transcript, either from the C.P.A. Office in San Francisco or from the firm doing the transcribing. b7c is connected with the difficulty of getting the construction work in the Flamingo Hotel. [redacted] advised on August 12, 1946 that he was present when SIEGEL telephonically contacted MRS. SEDWAY in Las Vegas and told SEDWAY that he, [redacted]

[redacted] was going to be in San Francisco on August 13, 1946 for the O.S. hearing to determine if construction work in the Hotel should proceed. At this time SIEGEL asked SEDWAY for the name of "The Senator down there". SEDWAY replied that one of the senators was [redacted]. SIEGEL replied: "No, that's not the one". SEDWAY then stated that the other U.S. Senator from Nevada is MC CARRAN (PAT MC CARRAN). SIEGEL then asked if "PAT" is in Las Vegas and SEDWAY replied that MC CARRAN was probably in Reno. SIEGEL asked SEDWAY if MC CARRAN is a friend of [redacted] and SEDWAY replied that [redacted] and PAT were very good friends. SIEGEL then stated that [redacted] is the "guy who is making all the trouble" by contending that SEDWAY, SIEGEL and [redacted] are "backing" [redacted].

[redacted] stated that SEDWAY replied that this is not the cause of SIEGEL's difficulty but that the real trouble lies in the fact that [redacted] had advised SEDWAY that most of the contractors around Las Vegas had become "irked" at the owners of the Flamingo Hotel and the DEL WEBB CONSTRUCTION COMPANY because the latter had employed all of the carpenters, masonry workers and laborers available in Las Vegas and that no other contractor could obtain skilled workmen. SEDWAY stated, [redacted] is definitely in favor of the Flamingo Hotel being completed, but that [redacted] is opposed to the completion of the Flamingo Hotel. He further stated that negotiations are underway to incorporate a five-mile strip on the Las Vegas-Los Angeles Highway, which is presently in the County, within the city limits of Las Vegas. Most of the opposition to the inclusion of this strip within the city proper has been voiced by [redacted] who has stated that if the Flamingo Hotel is not granted a liquor and gambling license he will withdraw his opposition to the "strip" being included in the city limits and will support the move.

In the report of Special Agent E. M. BENTLEYHOFF dated At Los Angeles, California August 7, 1946 reference is made on Page 90 to an allegation of a pay-off or bribery to a C.P.A. man at Reno, Nevada in order that a C.P.A. permit may be issued for the construction of the Flamingo Hotel in spite of the C.P.A. freeze order.

[REDACTED] was contacted in regard to this allegation and furnished the following information:

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

The following was dictated by Special Agent

With reference to the stop order issued by the C.P.A. furnished the following information.

On August 2, 1946, [redacted] contacted [redacted] and inquired as to the name of the man from [redacted] who sent the wire from Washington. [redacted] informed [redacted] to call a number listed to the DEL WEBB CONSTRUCTION COMPANY and ask for [redacted].

On the same date, this source related that SIEGEL called the number listed to the DEL WEBB CONSTRUCTION COMPANY and on being informed that both [redacted] were not, instructed the person with whom he talked to have them call [redacted] and have them furnish the name of the man who sent the wire from Washington.

On August 2, 1946 SIEGEL contacted [redacted] (an associate of SIEGEL) at which time he informed [redacted] that he had received a wire from Washington, D.C. ordering him to cease building immediately. SIEGEL complained bitterly [redacted] and indicated that he was going "nuts" and that before the hotel was finished he would cost $4,500,000.00.

SIEGEL contacted [redacted] on August 2, 1946, at which time [redacted] said he would get the information regarding the wire from Washington and call SIEGEL back.

On August 3, 1946 this source reported that [redacted] contacted SIEGEL and SIEGEL again bitterly complained against the stoppage of construction on the hotel and stated that other places such as the Standard Oil and radio station had received the go ahead for their places but that he was being stopped. SIEGEL indicated that he was trying to have the hearing at Los Angeles or Las Vegas and that he hoped to straighten the matter out at the hearing.

On August 3, 1946, a man believed to be [redacted] contacted SIEGEL and stated that [redacted] had sent the wire from Washington. [redacted] was said to be the Recording Secretary of the C.P.A. in Washington, D.C. The wire was alleged to have stated that he should get in touch with the Compliance Manager of the C.P.A., 1335 Market Street, San Francisco, California. The wire, according to [redacted] also mentioned the name of [redacted] at Las Vegas.

This confidential source reported that on August 9, 1946, SIEGEL contacted a [redacted] California, at which time SIEGEL complained of the numerous difficulties he was having with reference to the building of the hotel. SIEGEL inquired as to whether [redacted] knew [redacted] who was to be the Commissioner holding the hearing on Tuesday at San Francisco. [redacted] stated that he did not that he would "find out how to show him". SINGEL informed [redacted] that [redacted] was in charge of the Compliance Office was named [redacted] and that he had [redacted] appointed. [redacted] stated that he would get to work on the matter right away. SEN SINGEL stated that he was to find out whether [redacted] knew him or [redacted] or "somebody else knew how to get to him".

[redacted] mentioned above was reported by the San Francisco Office to [redacted]

On August 12, 1948 the San Francisco Field Office advised that [redacted] was in fact [redacted] at Stanford University, who was appointed to hear the SINGEL matter before the C.P.A. on Tuesday, August 13, 1948.

On or about March 19, 1946, the El Norte Hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada, published an article appearing in the "Las Vegas Evening Review-Journal", Las Vegas, Nevada, reflecting that Mrs. EVELYN FIMAYSON, a prominent Las Vegas real estate broker, had been forcibly taken from her home room in the El Norte Hotel by a group of unknown men and driven to a point several miles from the hotel in the desert where she was released unharmed. The articles indicated that this incident was a direct result of a controversy between Mrs. FIMAYSON and the owners of the El Norte Hotel in Las Vegas over an alleged conspiracy to sue Mrs. FIMAYSON as the result of the sale of the El Norte Hotel by Mrs. FIMAYSON. Subsequent articles appearing on March 20 and 21, 1946 indicated that according to an investigation conducted by the Las Vegas, Nevada Police Department and the Clark County Sheriff's Office, there was no basis found for Mrs. FIMAYSON's assertion that she had been abducted. The matter was dropped by the police department and sheriff's office and nothing else appeared in the newspapers from that date.

United States Attorney CHARLES H. CARR on the above date publicly announced that instant ring was one of the largest ever uncovered and had its roots in Mexico and spread through San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco, New York City, Norfolk and Richmond, Virginia, Baltimore, Maryland, and other cities. Six Los Angeles individuals were taken into custody and Federal Narcotic Agents launched a nationwide roundup of the men and women. This syndicate's "warehouse" was a secret cache in the Santa Monica Mountains where thousands of dollars worth of opium was buried and the location of which had not yet been discovered by narcotic agents. In addition to the defendants, three dead men, one of whom was murdered in an intra-gang feud, were named as unindicted coconspirators.

Three of the six Los Angeles individuals indicted in the conspiracy were recently sentenced by Federal Judge BEN HARRISON in Los Angeles on other narcotic charges.

There was forwarded to the Bureau on August 12, 1946, a newspaper clipping from the "Tijuana Herald" of August 3, 1946 which consisted of a photograph of ENRIQUE DIARTE, deceased, and set forth information concerning sentences imposed upon the three individuals previously mentioned who were involved in the fatal shooting of DIARTE and the translation of the article is as follows:

FRANCIS ORBE GALEANA AND MELICIO ALVARADO SANCHEZ SENTENCED;

Max Cossman is out on bail of 10,000 pesos;

"Francis Orbe Galeana and Melicio Alvarado Sanchez, named as responsible for the assassination of Enrique Diarte, a trafficker in drugs, which assassination occurred in October, 1944, were sentenced by the Judge of the District, the Honorable Eginio Guerra, to 30 years in jail for this crime.

"Max Cossman, with alias Max Weber, who was named as the leader of the conspiracy, was sentenced to 4 years and 10 months, and obtained his liberty through a bond of 10,000 pesos.

"Diarte, who trafficked in drugs in a large scale, was taken from his house on the morning of the 31st of October, of the year mentioned, by MELICIO ALVARADO SANCHEZ and FRANCIS ORBE GALEANA, who led him to believe that they were going to pull a large operation in opium, but upon arriving at a small ranch on the edges of the Tijuana river, he was fired upon and was taken later to the place along the road which leads to Tecate, 17 miles from the city, at which place they threw his body into a ditch.

"Cossman believed that he was not suspected in this crime, and months later was arrested in Mexicali when he was conducting business in the local bank, involving a considerable sum of money."

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent A. E. OSTROM, dated August 7, 1946 at Los Angeles, California in the instant case wherein information is set forth on page 93 regarding [REDACTED]

The following investigation was conducted in regard to the allegation that [REDACTED] was seen at Sloppy Joe's Cafe at 9917 Sunset Boulevard, Hollywood, [REDACTED]

On August 6, 1946, Special Agent [REDACTED] and the writer contacted and displayed photographs of [REDACTED] all Bureau Fugitives, [REDACTED] Billingsley's Cafe, located at 5927 Sunset Boulevard. It is noted that this is the only cafe which is near to the address, 9919, reported to be Sloppy Joe's Cafe. [REDACTED] upon interview stated that they did not know this individual nor could they identify the photographs of the above-mentioned fugitives as frequenting [REDACTED] cafe. Both of these individuals stated that they were willing to cooperate in any way possible in an effort to locate and apprehend these fugitives.

[REDACTED] was consulted in regard to [REDACTED] frequenting Sloppy Joe's Cafe. [REDACTED] stated that he had conducted considerable investigation in regard to this information and his results thus far have been negative. He advised that he had no knowledge of any cafe by the name of Sloppy Joe's, but that he would make discreet approaches to informants in an effort to ascertain whether or not the above information referred to Glen Billingsley Cafe, which is located on the Sunset Strip.

[REDACTED] is not actually an important figure in the underworld set-up in the Los Angeles Area but that being a personal friend of SIEGEL, he does exercise quite a bit of influence.

[REDACTED] b7c

[REDACTED] attempts to present the appearance of being "tough" he is actually a very weak individual and relies principally for his power in the underworld on his strong front and association with SIEGEL.

[REDACTED] b7c

[REDACTED] He stated, however, that he wanted to make it clear that [REDACTED] is not an important figure except for his friendship with SIEGEL.

The following was dictated by Special Agent [REDACTED] b2c

[REDACTED] it was ascertained that [REDACTED] was going to Del Mar on August 5, 1946 where he would attend the running of the races at the Del Mar Track. b2
b7c
b7D

The San Diego Field Office by letter dated August 8, 1946 stated that [REDACTED] had registered at the Del Mar Hotel on August 6, 1946. It was further reported that GEORGE RAFT, film star, was also at the Del Mar Hotel on August 6th and 7th and that RAFT had won a considerable amount of money on the first day of the meet and [REDACTED] was heard to speculate as to whether RAFT would pay some of his debts with his winnings. It was reported that information had been received from several sources at the track that BEN SIEGEL may have been able to get to [REDACTED] one of the owners of the track, with the proposition that [REDACTED] should have exclusive bookmaking rights at the track and to eliminate all independent bookmakers by force, if necessary. However, rather constant observation of [REDACTED] on each day of the meet up until the date of the letter from the San Diego Field Office had not revealed this type of activity. It was stated that the reliability of the track source in this matter was questioned. b7c

[REDACTED] was reported to spend considerable time in reviewing form sheets and was in conversation with those in attendance at the track and during the races remained in his box, betting on each race. It was known that he had won a considerable amount of money, coming in with at least two good long shots. It was pointed out that the coverage of [REDACTED] activities as of that date only indicated that he was at Del Mar as a betting commissioner and not operating a book. b7c

[REDACTED] It was pointed out that a large number of Hollywood Motion Picture personage visited the Club House at the track and that [REDACTED] was well acquainted with most of them, but there was no indication that he was operating a book at the track. It was thought that if [REDACTED] were operating a big book he was doing it well undercover at the Hotel and it was suggested in this connection that he would lay off all organized bets. b7D

[REDACTED] it was ascertained that [REDACTED] was in Los Angeles on August 11, 1946. Through this same source it was stated that on August 12, 1946 [REDACTED] contacted several individuals including [REDACTED] b2

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent A. E. ESTHOLTHOFF dated August 7, 1943 at Los Angeles on Page 31 wherein information is set forth regarding VIRGINIA HILL, paramour of BEN SINGEL, residence: 10814 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles. In addition to that information set forth in referenced report, the Los Angeles Field Office File entitled: "GENERAL CRIME SURVEY, LOS ANGELES FIELD DIVISION" in a Memorandum for the Director dated April 15, 1945 sets forth the following data on VIRGINIA HILL.

VIRGINIA HILL is a girl who for the past four or five years has received considerable newspaper publicity and notoriety because of the expensive parties she has given and the large amounts of money which she has apparently spent very freely. She has been variously known as "the female Rex St. Cyr" and "the belle of the Bistros". She has been sometimes referred to as a gangster's moll, a Georgia oil heiress, and the paramour of many wealthy and prominent men. It appears, however, from investigation conducted in her home town, Marietta, Georgia, that as a young girl she caused her parents considerable trouble and was constantly being referred to the juvenile authorities.

Around 1940 or 1941 she first came into prominence as previously stated because of the notoriety she began to receive for entertaining lavishly and insisting on paying all the bills at the night clubs. Newspaper accounts have linked her with many prominent movie stars and she is supposed to have received at one time more fan mail than GARY COOPER or BARBARA STANWYCK. As an example of her reputation for spending, several newspapers have carried accounts she has spent over $70,000 a year in night clubs alone.

Angela has been associated with the movie crowd. At one time she was booked by SAMUEL GOLDWYN Productions for a role in "Ball of Fire", but she did not get the role. She has attended many of the night clubs in Los Angeles and has been seen in the company of JOHN CARROLL, the movie actor, & STEPHEN GRANE, who is LANA TURNER's ex-husband.

[redacted] This information was confirmed on the same date by an article appearing in the LAS VEGAS EVENING REVIEW JOURNAL which stated that a lease of the hotel premises was involved and that the monthly rental under the lease was around $12,500 and that rumors were prevalent that HOUSSELS was attempting to purchase the Hotel and that the price was said to be $1,500,000 with an additional $125,000 for liquor stock and bars.

MURDER OF "BIG JACK" LENTENDRE, APRIL 22, 1946

[REDACTED] b2 b7C b7D

SIEGEL had advised MOE SHAW and others at the Las Vegas Club recently that "they" had killed a man in Baltimore, Maryland in April 1946, who had refused to do the bidding of "them". SIEGEL used the illustration as one indicating both how "they" will not allow anyone to "cross them" and also how easy it is for "them" to kill a man and get away with it.

SIEGEL stated at the time that this man had been operating a night club and gambling resort in direct competition with "them" in Hollywood, Florida. He indicated that he and MEYER LANSKY were the principal ones responsible for having the man killed. He said that the man was killed while driving down the street and no one knew who was responsible for his death. SIEGEL also said that the man operated the La Boheme Club at Hollywood, Florida, prior to his death, and that it was the La Boheme Club that was taking business away from their clubs, the Colonial Inn and the Green Acres.

Informant said that he remembers well the shooting of this man, whose name he could not recall at the time, and that the Eastern newspapers stated at the time of his murder that his death must have been a mistake because "he was such a good man".

On Sunday, August 4, 1946, a story appeared in "The American Weekly", magazine section of the Hearst newspapers, entitled "The Great Racing Gamble" and "The Syndicate Takes Over". This article was written by WILLIAM ENGLE and was an account of the activities of the Chicago Syndicate in attempting to take over gambling all over the country, and particularly the race horse news services and hand books. The story dealt with the murder of "BIG JACK" LENTENDRE and the shooting of JAMES M. RAGEN, Sr. b7C
